Subject: Intimation regarding commencement of Public Beta Testing of Machtravel.com and Mach Travel App

Dear Sir/Madam,

We are pleased to inform you that Machtravel.com, the B2C Online Travel Agency (OTA) platform of Mach Travel Solutions Limited ("the Company"), along with the Mach Travel mobile application, is now open for public beta testing.

The commencement of public beta testing marks an important milestone in the development of the Company's B2C OTA platform. During this phase, the platform will be accessible to the public for testing and feedback before its full commercial launch.

The Company invites its shareholders, customers, travel partners and the wider public to explore Machtravel.com and the Mach Travel App and share their feedback on the platform, including the user experience, functionality and booking journey. The feedback received during this phase will assist the Company in further refining and enhancing the platform.

As the platform is currently in the beta testing phase, users may experience slower responsiveness, and certain features and functionalities may continue to be added, modified or optimized. The Company will progressively enhance the platform based on user feedback and real-world usage during the beta period.

The commencement of public beta testing represents another step in the Company's strategy of developing a B2C Online Travel Agency (OTA) platform as part of its broader objective of building a comprehensive travel ecosystem.

We encourage stakeholders and members of the public to participate in the beta testing and share their valuable feedback with the Company.

Public Beta Website: <https://www.machtravel.com>.

The Mach Travel App is available for public beta testing through the relevant mobile application platforms.

You are requested to kindly take the above information on record.

Thanking You,

Yours faithfully,

For Mach Travel Solutions Limited
